

	Meijo University
Diploma Policy	Meijo University confers a degree to a student who has acquired the qualities and abilities listed below, which are in accordance with our funding spirit: Our mission is to educate students to become moderate, bold, unbiased, righteous, and active and to win the trust of the nation and society. Extensive general knowledge and the ability to make unbiased judgments based on a broad perspective. Profound knowledge in specialized fields and the ability to employ the acquired knowledge and skills to resolve various social issues. The ability to continue to actively learn, to share the acquired knowledge, and to grow in cooperation with others.
Curriculum Policy	Meijo University designs and implements the curriculum to accomplish departmental educational goals and to nurture students with the qualities and abilities stated in our policy on conferring of degrees. Meijo University develops structured curriculums for liberal arts education consisting of humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, languages, computer science, and physical education among others, in order to expose students to diverse values and to nurture students with the ability to correctly understand and describe the world we live in. Meijo University develops structured curriculums for specialized fields of study consisting of appropriate combinations of lectures, seminars, lab experiments, practice labs, and so on in order to help students acquire concrete knowledge and skills in specialized fields to be utilized in problem solving. Meijo University introduces active learning elements primarily into freshman programs, seminars, lab experiments, and practice labs in order to nurture students with the ability to learn actively throughout life, to understand others, and to exchange ideas with others. Meijo University enforces strict credit and grading policies and provides students with individual guidance based on student outcomes surveys, GPA, and earned credit hours in order to help students study according to individual progress and future goals.
Admission Policy	Meijo University admits applicants who have acquired the following abilities and attitudes through prior education such as high school education. The ability to use the basic knowledge of high school courses as a basis for university level learning. The willingness to contribute to society with the knowledge and skills acquired in the chosen department. The willingness to learn steadily not only while enrolled, but also after graduating.