

Join Meijo Summer School 2019

Where would you learn more about Japan other than in Japan? There will be so much to see and learn from our uniquely programmed Meijo Summer School in 2019. The program has been designed for students who are studying at our current, and future, partner universities. Our program offers participants an opportunity to learn about the industry and culture of central Japan, particularly, the Chubu area. This central region, where Meijo University is located, is the center of automotive technology and industry, most famously represented by Toyota Motor Corporation. Students will learn how Toyota has become a successful global company in both of the industries. In addition, students will develop deeper understanding of the Chubu region and all that it has to offer. We hope that you will join us for a rich and fulfilling summer experience.

Meijo University

Meijo University has over 90 years of history that can be traced back to the establishment of the Nagoya Science and Technology Course in 1926. As one of the largest universities in the Chubu region, Meijo University is a comprehensive learning institution that supports a wide range of academic fields from the humanities to physical sciences. To foster the human resources of the next generation, the university continues to tackle ongoing challenges by further enhancing its campus and creating new faculties. Our University comprises 9 faculties with 24 departments and 10 graduate schools covering a wide range of academic fields from the humanities and the sciences.

As we aim to become one of the leading universities, Meijo University is working towards furthering internationalization by admitting more international students and invited researchers as well as forming academic partnerships with overseas universities and institutions. We are keeping abreast of trends in internationalization and incorporating these into our educational reforms.
